

KLAS is a system for managing your information resources and the people using them. KLAS has all the functionality of an integrated library system with added features to benefit your staff and those who depend on you for information. Additionally, you have the proven support of Keystone's entire staff including dedicated customer service representatives, developers, and systems administrators.

KLAS helps you:

- Catalog your information:

Organize and provide access to your information resources — whether they are physical materials, or electronic documents.

- Maintain a personal profile of reader interests:

Track the types of information that each user is interested in

Match each user with the information resources that they may want

Pro-actively alert each user as materials are added to the system in subject areas that interest them
